Model Town Planned
At Edmonton Oilfield

By Enid Nemy
DEVON, Alta., Nov. 5.—(CP)—"Alberta's first model" town will soon arise on 240 acres of land facing the North Saskatchewan river here. The site now is at the north end of the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oil fields but if the field extends as it is believed it will, the town will be in the middle of the field.

Experts Deal
With Future Wars

By JAMES MCCOOK
LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Commonwealth experts on push-button warfare, whose devices may permit reductions in expensive standing armies, slipped inconspicuously Monday into a secret conference. Sir Henry Tizard, chairman of the Defence Ministry Research Advisory committee, presided over the meeting of about 20 colleagues from the Commonwealth and Empire. All their discussions will be colored by economic strains and labor shortages and the wish of governments to have scientific developments reduce the armed services' drain on manpower. The meeting will be without a detailed agenda or resolutions but will cover the whole field of commonwealth defence including atomic energy, radar, guided missiles and aircraft developments. Four representatives from Canada will attend with the latest data on Arctic and Sub-Arctic tests of defence equipment and the Australian representative will have information on rocket experiments in scorching deserts.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Canadian Defence Research Board, was expected to be invited to join his colleagues, Brig. S. F. Clark, Air Vice-Marshal A. J. James and Dr. G. S. Field, who were present at the opening meeting.

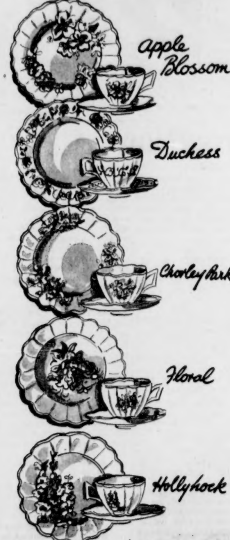

Convicted Slayer
Sentenced to Hang

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Lawrence Deacon, 35, of Winnipeg, yesterday was found guilty of the 1946 murder of Johann Hongo and was sentenced to be hanged next Jan. 21. Sentence was pronounced by Chief Justice E. K. Williams of Manitoba court of King's bench. The jury returned its verdict after two hours' consideration. Deacon's body, slugged eight times with a heavy automobile bolt, was found in an outlying part of Winnipeg March 31, 1946. After Deacon's first trial more than a year ago, his conviction and sentence to death were set aside by the supreme court of Canada and a new trial ordered. His second trial, which began last week, ended abruptly when one of the jurors took ill. A third trial, which went to the jury began immediately and the whole of the evidence was retaken.

Labor Directs
All Unemployment

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—The Labor government's month-old decree giving the Minister of Labor power to direct unemployed men and women into undermanned industries was upheld Monday night by the House of Commons, 252 to 144, after the order was attacked by Conservatives and a number of rebellious Labor members of Parliament. Many Labor members abstained from voting as the House debated a motion to amend the Labor direction order, sponsored by Labor Member Rhys Davies. The 70-year-old trade union leader said compulsory job placement "takes the line that the Nazis had in Germany and Italy took when they were in an economic crisis." Under the "control of engagements" order, all men between 18 and 50 and all women from 20 to 40 becoming unemployed must register with local state Labor exchanges, who have power to direct them into essential industries. Employers may hire men and women only through Labor exchanges. Married women with children under 15 years and persons employed in professional and executive capacities are exempted from Labor direction.

A Fact to Remember

As a matter of course people in Alberta will approve efforts of the provincial government to attract industries as well as immigrants from Britain. This province needs industrial expansion, to stabilize employment, balance its economy, and provide a larger home market for farm products.

One point, however, must be kept in mind, by both provincial and federal governments. In seeking to draw immigrants to Alberta, the Old Lands are desperately in need of larger production, and so short of manpower that prisoners of war are being employed on a large scale and mildly coercive measures have been taken to shift thousands of people from non-essential occupations to productive industry.

Canadian immigration policy or policies should therefore be carried on in the light of Britain's need for manpower, and in friendly understanding of the views and aims of the British authorities.

From the strictly selfish point of view, if they were to do so, it would be a mistake to build up population in Canada at the expense of crippling Britain in its fight for economic recovery. Because the security of Canada and the safety of democracy everywhere will be lessened if that recovery is delayed or limited by a loss of workers who are at present there to do the work of the country turn faster than they have ever turned before.

Coupons Out

The ration books can be thrown away. Or laid away as souvenirs of emergency restraints on buying which no longer exist. Sugar and battle syrups have been rationed.

These were the surviving items in a long but diminishing list of things which Canadians have been able to buy legally in only a few quantities for more than five years. They can now use as much of these and all other commodities as they want and can pay for. Supplies of any kind are no longer doled. We are back to the buying and selling freedom of pre-war times.

Price ceilings remain on those, as on many other kinds of goods, an average of one cent per pound in the price of sugar was authorized when the coupons were abandoned. No further increase, it is officially stated, is likely for a year, by which time the world supplies, already considered sufficient, may be expected to be ample. Should the world price decline substantially, the price in Canada will be reduced in keeping. Refineries will not get the cent per pound increase, nor any part of it, on the sugar they now have in stock. This will go into the funds of the sugar administration; while buyers are to get a bonus of a quarter of a cent per pound out of the extra cost the consumer is to pay.

Some weeks ago the international sugar-allotment arrangement was cancelled as being no longer necessary. De-rationing in Canada follows as the logical result of this return to free world trade.

Something May Be Learned

Finding of the wrecked Pan-American plane near Ketchikan confirms what had been supposed, that all the occupants are dead and apparently died instantly when the crash occurred. Relatives will thus have the melancholy satisfaction of knowing that the bodies are decently buried, and where.

It is possible that from the location and the wreckage experts will learn something that will make flying safer on the coastal route, and perhaps elsewhere. That is the public interest in the finding of the debris. For the same reasons search should be continued for the discovery of where and how the RCAF plane was ditched, on a flight from Calgary to Pentton.

Coming to the friends of those who were aboard. It is owing also to the public, for it is from a study of the causes of accidents that mechanical improvements can be made and dangerous operations are precluded avoided. It is now seems unlikely that the plane will be found of the TCA liner which disappeared last spring in the Vancouver area. The probabilities are that the plane and its human cargo are buried under the waters of the Gulf of Georgia. Because the wreck has not been discovered, designers and operators of air services have learned nothing from that tragedy.

The Elections in Britain

What political significance may attach to the defeat of Socialist candidates in the British municipal elections is not for Canadians to say. Our role is that of sympathetic spectators of the battle for survival which the people there are waging. How they choose to wage it, and under what leadership, is their business.

What observers may properly note is that the Socialists made their advance to control of national affairs by capturing control of the municipal councils. That is a matter of record. Whether waging support in the municipal contests means they are losing support in the national field is the bone of lively contention.

In any case, spokesmen for the Attlee government say it will not call general elections because of this set-back. The ministry, they predict, will carry on for its full term, which will not end until 1950. That supposition is in line with the proposal legislation which would take power from the House of Lords the power to force an earlier appeal, by cutting in a year the time that the Lords can hold up a bill that has been passed by the House of Commons.

Notice has been given that this disabling legislation will be put through, if necessary by creating enough Socialist peers to swamp the opposition in the chamber. Whether that method of warding off an appeal to the country will meet with the approval of the British voters is, again, their exclusive business. Canadians have of course a right to ask themselves how they would react if a government at Ottawa were to adopt that means of standing off an election.

They Might Listen

Premier Nehru says the people of Kashmir will be given a chance to say by their votes whether they want their state joined to Hindu India or to Moslem Pakistan. But, he says, they will not be given the chance until the Moslem invaders have been driven out.

As the invaders and the Moslem population are allies in the fight to prevent annexation to India, ousting the invaders involves also crushing their Kashmir sympathizers and associates, and is a pretty direct challenge to Pakistan. India's position in the conflict amounts to a declaration that India will win the war first and take the plebiscite afterward.

Obviously that program does not promise to create good relations between India and Pakistan, nor between Hindu and Moslem. As these are independent states, they would perhaps resent any intervention by the United Nations. But since both dominions have advised the General Assembly what it should do about Palestine, the Assembly might at least presume to advise them in return that they had better stop shooting and try peaceful means of settling their own problems.

Holy Land Chaos Feared by Canada

By Ross Munro

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Canada warned today that whatever plan is adopted for settlement of the Palestine question "there is danger that events will over-reach us, that we will be unable to take effective action in time and that confusion and disorder will follow upon the withdrawal of British, the mandatory power."

Making a long statement for the Dominion before the Palestine sub-committee of the United Nations, B. Pearson said that the urgency of determining the method of implementation "is maintained by the declared intention of the mandatory power to withdraw from Palestine in the near future."

Pearson said that in discussing the merits of the three proposals presented by the United States, Russia and Guatemala, it must be recognized that what is contemplated by the majority report on Palestine is a major political operation.

"For its successful execution, if the general assembly decides to take administrative action, the United Nations itself must assume grave responsibility."

"We are now confronted with a problem which will strain the resources and endanger the prestige of this organization, and it is urgently necessary that the United Nations, but for the whole United Nations, that we find a solution."

He emphasized that such a political operation must be carefully and soundly planned, and effective.

"In our view, the withdrawal of the mandatory power would create a legal vacuum in Palestine."

This legal question resolves itself into the question of what action the U.N. can take or institute, so that the legal vacuum may be filled.

ON THE SCORE of practicality, Pearson said means that have been best calculated to bring about a rapid and peaceful settlement in Palestine when the mandatory power withdraws.

He forecast great administrative difficulties under any system.

"We must... endeavor to make sure that these administrative difficulties are kept to a minimum. Careful consideration should be given in advance to steps which could or might be taken by the U.N. should the settlement work out peacefully in the manner contemplated."

The Canadian delegate then dealt in detail with the three proposals advanced for a Palestine settlement and also touched on the question of a legal vacuum.

As has been forecast, he principally outlined the difficulties of each proposal in an effort to crystallize the thoughts of the sub-committee on these special problems.

Pearson recalled that both the United States and Guatemalan delegates had suggested that the general assembly itself might take responsibility for the administration of the territory.

He succeeded in E. M. McCreary, president of the Canadian delegation, and J. E. Cooper of Lehigh, first vice-president, and J. H. Glover, secretary, of the Canadian delegation, and J. E. Cooper of Lehigh, first vice-president, and J. H. Glover, secretary, of the Canadian delegation.

The association expected to hold three meetings per unit during the coming year. Arrangements have been made to show educational films through the National Film Board to have guest speakers at the various sessions.

Commencing in December, bookkeeping schools will be held at Lehigh, Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton and the Peace River district, for the benefit of the dealers or their bookkeepers. The association will continue to investigate unauthorized repair shops, Mr. Corbett stated.

RHEUMATISM YIELDS TO DRUGLESS METHOD OF TREATMENT

Wheaton Springs, Mo., Nov. 4.—So successful has a comparatively new drugless method proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

This book entitled, "Rheumatism and Arthritis," fully explains why drugs and medicine give only temporary relief and fail to remove the cause of the trouble.

The Ball Clinic, Wheaton Springs, Mo., has perfected a system of drugless treatment for rheumatism and arthritis combined with hot water.

Many famous mineral waters and hot springs have been tried in the past, but this new method of treatment is fully described in the book and tells how it may be possible for you to find freedom from rheumatism and arthritis.

You incur no obligation in sending for this informative book. It may be the means of saving you years of needless pain. For recognition, the company will send you a free copy of the new book, "Good Health Life's Greatest Secret." Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 5203, Wheaton Springs, Mo., 64011.

Alberta Men Feel Progress Slow

Work on the Alberta-B.C. highway was the centre of discussion at the bi-weekly meeting of the Alberta Motor Association in the Club Roosevelt Tuesday noon.

Many of the members felt that the progress of the road was much too slow and if it was not speeded up, B.C.'s road, the West Coast Highway, would be completed first, and as a result Edmonton would lose most of the north country business.

Harold Pascherke, representative of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, said that the meeting of the Chamber had already recognized the importance of the highway, and they had a delegation, as before the Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, in connection with the progress of the highway.

"Assurance was received," he said, "that the highway would be completed next year." Mr. Fallow will attend a meeting of the Chamber very shortly to give a report of the progress on the highway.

Mr. Pascherke stated that the delay for the hold up in finishing the highway was the difficulty in obtaining crews to work on the road.

Dr. G. J. Hope, provincial president of the Automobile Association, said that the public is working from a hand to mouth fashion in present bridge construction. He was of the opinion that a semi-high level bridge would be a suitable solution for the city. The bridge he thought, could run from just south of the parliament buildings, and come out past the C.P. tracks on the South Side. "This," he said, "would spread the traffic."

He favored consulting a competent local engineer to look into the situation and advise the city on the best method of construction. "This hours on feeling to the city engineers," he stated.

"It would be the best and most economical way to handle a difficult problem," he concluded.

The members were told that the annual meeting of the northern division of the AMA would be held in the Masonic Temple, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. It will be strictly a business meeting.

Mr. C. W. Caton, 10th division president, stated that during the month of October the membership was increased by 32. This included 10 regular members and 20 associate members. Membership of Alberta was brought to 8,420 regular members and 6,578 associate members for a total membership of 14,998. Mr. Caton reported.

The board decided to purchase 25 copies of "Sportmen Like Driving" and five copies of the Teachers Manual for the furthering of safety teaching. Arrangements will probably be made for a training teacher course in western Canada this winter, it was reported.

H. L. Greco, vice-president of the branch, was acting chairman of the meeting.

Witness Says Officer Drunk

POWELL RIVER, B.C., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Charges of heavy drinking by a police officer and a member of the crew of the ill-fated M. S. Gulf Stream, a few hours before the ship sank, were made today by a witness.

Testimony of James Lake, Quinsey, clerk of the court at Vancouver, highlighted the second day of the inquiry into the loss of five lives when the ship crashed.

Mr. Quinsey said he saw Chief Constable Frank Peterson "drunk" about three o'clock on the afternoon of the accident.

"There was no question about it. He was very drunk. There was another crew member with him who had also been drinking."

He identified the crew member as a seaman Donald Harold Hartford led the chief officer to the crew's mess deck to avoid causing a disturbance in front of the passengers.

Mr. Quinsey also described "a gay party" which he said was going on in the corridor outside a stateroom at the stern of the ship.

Mrs. Donice Ellis, who suffered a broken leg when the Gulf Stream struck, gave her evidence from a hospital stretcher and said Chief Officer Peterson and Chief Steward Leo Berghuis had been drinking.

Under cross examination she said the only evidence she had of drinking aboard the ship was seeing "Peterson stagger" and that her son Elmer Ellington told her there was a party below deck, a which a few of the crew members were drinking.

Her son identified Boatman Nelson as another crew member who was seen staggering and passengers, and Ray Bergstrom, a passenger, said he had given Peterson and Nelson drinks while they were off duty.

The hearing will be resumed today and the jury is expected to render its verdict sometime this afternoon.

Hundred Per Cent Beer-By-The-Glass

ALVINE, B.C., Nov. 5.—Two residents of this hamlet of 48 persons yesterday were preparing to toast one another with a glass of frothy beer.

Seven voters were registered for the "beer-by-the-glass" plebiscite held Monday at this remote settlement but only two turned up. They both voted in favour of the plebiscite.

As a result of the "overwhelming majority," a lodge here now will install a beer parlor.

Edmonton Timber-Toppers Well on Their Way to Another Fine Season

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

THERE HAVE BEEN FEW DULL MOMENTS in Western Canada Senior League hockey this season, which continues to come up with surprises, not the least of which was the 7-2 reverse absorbed by Calgary Stampede last night at the hands of Saskatoon's non-co-operative Quakers.

The vague opener between Calgary and Edmonton ran more or less to form, according to pre-game odds, but almost every other league season has contained its own element of surprise. Stampede beat Flyers here 4-2 to start the schedule, but then got kicked around to the extent of 6-1 by Lethbridge Jets who came up here and were stopped 5-3.

In Saskatchewan the picture has been just about the same, the Quakers starting off by bopping Caps 7-2 at Regina and then losing on home ice 3-4. Stampede got back at Lethbridge 6-1 on Calgary ice and Leafs beat Flyers at home 7-2.

Surprise team of the year of course has been Leafs, but Caps' loss at Calgary was more or less expected. Regina's 9-4 win here on Saturday was a big upset, the Caps in their previous showing probably being expected to come through, but not so decisively. Nobody, however, looked for Leafs to jump on Regina 9-2 two nights later, and now Stampede have taken it on the chin at Saskatoon. Which club do you like for tonight?

Fice-Pin Bowling Popular Pastime

EXTENT TO WHICH ANY GAME is played seems a good yardstick with which to measure its popularity. One hundred and ninety-four five-pin bowling leagues are operating on Kneassend all year this season according to George Bougie, manager.

The various leagues average eight teams, each of which usually has six players, five regulars and one sub. That would mean round totals of 1382 teams and 5000 players, several of which, of course, are members of more than one league. But it still means several thousand keepers and that five-pin bowling occupies a very prominent part in the sport life of the city.

Monday Night Mixed League, pictures of which are featured on this page today, is one of the 15 which has 16 teams. All players of the Senior Men's League, which has eight teams and is the top group in the men's division, must have an average of at least 220 and a five-man total team average of 1200.

The Senior Men's is the only league at the Rec without handicaps. Each of the 184 leagues has its own organization and operates under its own regulations, but games are governed by rules of Edmonton Five Pin Bowling Association, of which Jim Rutherford is a president, and Marie McNabb, secretary.

Tommy Ivan Continues to Click

FACT THAT DETROIT RED WINGS are sharing the top berth in the NHL, with Boston Bruins, does not make Tommy Ivan, rookie member of the club, look bad. Ivan has served the Detroit organization in all departments excepting that of player.

He coached junior teams at Brantford and Guelph under Red Wings sponsorship and had a hand in the development of such current Detroit players as Bill Guerin, Les Leach and Doug McCaig. He also has worked in close alliance with Carson Cooper, chief scout, and is regarded as being sharp in scouting talent.

In assuming coaching duties of the Red Wings, Ivan has achieved the distinction of handling all three Detroit's top teams in as many seasons—and in three different leagues. First it was Omaha in the United States, then Indianapolis in the American. Ivan played with Owen Sound Juniors, Montreal Canadiens' winners in 1964.

Chances Securing Eddie Cuts Slim

THE SIX NHL CAPTAINS FOR THE 1967-68 season are: Toronto—Syl Appel; Chicago—Johnny Marsek; Rangers—Neil Colville; Canadiens—Yves Desjardins; Detroit—Boris Mironov; Minnesota—Milt Schmidt. And he is the only captain in the league who has played in all six leagues. Eddie, who is a defenseman, would be a welcome addition to the Flyers roster, but right now there seems little likelihood of his being called for the Flyers to join the team.

Next game for the Flyers is against Maple Leafs in Lethbridge on Saturday night. The team worked out for the night and will be on the ice again this evening and tomorrow and will leave for Lethbridge Friday night.

Olympic Sextets To Sail January 3

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Hockey teams from Canada and the United States, entered in the winter Olympics at St. Moritz, Switzerland, will leave for the city Jan. 3 aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. John Ahrens, secretary of the British Ice Hockey Association, said yesterday.

Spaghetti originated in China and was introduced into Europe through Italy by Marco Polo.

Five-pin bowling, which has gained impetus in popularity across Canada in recent years, is in full swing again in Edmonton. The city's league packed with trundlers these frosty nights and league matches predominate in all city bowling establishments. One of the oldest leagues is the Monday Night Mixers, and a number of the players are shown in the above picture. In the upper left is Mac Turvey, president, who holds a 260 average, and in the opposite corner is Alice Johnson, whose 247 average is tops for the women. Reading a score sheet over the shoulders of the three women are, Ralph Jones, left, who averages 180, and former Western Canada singles titlist and Jim Rutherford, president of the Edmonton Five-Pin Bowling Association. The ladies, left to right, are Mrs. Mary Manning, only Edmonton woman to ever win the honor of scoring a perfect game. Last season 11 members from this league were chosen to represent Edmonton in the Western Canada championships. Marie McNabb, energetic secretary of the Edmonton Five Pin Association, is also secretary of this league. Jack Edwards is vice-president and Lynn Page treasurer.

South Side Juniors Trip Canadians 2-1

Speed, ruggedness, clever stick-handling and everything that goes with junior hockey was in abundance Tuesday night as the youthful stars of tomorrow returned to the Edmonton arena in the opening game of the puck season. And when the boys had tuckered themselves out and the horn sounded, the fast-moving South Side squad had emerged on the long end of a 2-1 count over Canadians.

As a clumsy crowd of about 400 was jammed on the two teams, bitter rivalry in last year's championship game, where they have left it, and fought a scrappy duel throughout the entire 60 minutes.

THE FAST-SKATING South-Siders showed the way in the opening counts by tallying the only goal of the period. They added the clincher in the second frame, and after giving up one, they held the fighting Canadians at bay until the bell.

George Ego, who banged in the first goal on Don Emberg's assist, and Bob Kruper, who banged in the clincher, were the South Side marksmen while Gordon Drumrook scored Canadian's lone tally.

THE RUGGED South Side were moving right from the opening minutes, and many of the goal-tending of Canadian's Norm Kuntich, who kicked the disk out into the initial count.

Bob Gillett-Canadians appeared lost in the first period. Their passing was off and frequent off-side called many of their scoring drives. But, there was a reason for their slow start. Jimmy Graham's south-siders were hunting in both directions.

DON EMBERG, a backstop with the CNE junior baseball nine during last season, started the first South Side scoring frame, and when he laid down a perfect pass in front of the Canadian cage, Ego made no mistake in shooting the rubber home.

The Emberg-Ego-Hugh MacDonald, who had a career high of 10 points for the remaining minutes of the initial frame, but Kuntich was unbeatable.

SOUTH SIDE continued to carry off the power in the second frame, and Kruper, a smoothy who cruises around right wing, scored the second Strathcona marker at 11:30.

Picking a loose puck in the center ice, Ego was stick-handling cleverly past the Canadian defence, and he finished with a high labelled shot.

However, that was the last of the South Side scoring. The Canadian came to live and had a turn at penetrating Boston Bruins in the winners' cage.

THE PLAY was evenly divided until the 17:07 mark in the second period when Canadians came into their own. They scored twice, first Doug McClellan's clever puck-handling who plays heads up, and then a rolling shot when he stick-handled behind him, and scored the second goal.

Sox Manager "Surrenders" To Chandler

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The fund that raised for seven days between Leslie O'Connor, general manager of Chicago White Sox, and A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, over the signing of a 17-year-old Chicago high school pitcher, ended yesterday with O'Connor's "surrender."

The $500 fine imposed by Chandler was lifted his suspension order to the White Sox and O'Connor, whose offer to resign as general manager was refused by the Sox.

PEACE in one of baseball's biggest jurisdictional controversies was negotiated by President Will Harridge of the American League, in a letter to the White Sox, urged the club to back down in its showdown with Chandler, and requested that both sides individually, to refrain from legal action against Chandler. O'Connor had threatened such action.

O'Connor replied that he would comply with the league's wishes. THE CONTROVERSY started over the action of the White Sox in signing George Zetterman, a pitcher of the Chicago Christian High School, a private school to a 1948 contract.

O'Connor contended he had violated no rule since the rule as written by the major league executive council and the minor league committee had specifically provided that no student athlete in a high school which was a member of the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations could be signed. Chandler interpreted the rule to include all high school athletes in the United States and Canada.

late Good Gives Los Angeles Win FRESNO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Coach-manager John Pollich scored an unsanctioned only 22 seconds to play Tuesday night to give Los Angeles Monarchs their first win of the season.

Berkeley, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Hockey League defeated West Westminster Breakers 5-4 last night for their third consecutive victory. Fred Gibson scored the winning goal after he netted the puck from five feet on a pass from Louis Mallin.

RODGER has done all his playing this season with Pittsburgh Hornets. Other Hornets in the deal are: Dave Stewart and Gus Bodnar, who are being traded to the Flyers.

"I THINK it's a break," said Rodger, "with Chicago I get regular play and I'm confident I can prove I belong in the majors. The way Dickens and Goldham were going at Pittsburgh they have to go to the Hawks."

The general feeling in hockey circles here was that Manager Costa Smyth of the Leafs was getting the best of the deal with Hawk boss Bill Toit. It wasn't the first time that Conn has persuaded players into grab bags.

Quakers End Stamps' Winning Streak, 7-2

SASKATOON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Skating fast, combining well and seizing every opportunity that came their way, Saskatoon Quakers tonight ended Calgary Stampede's 7-2 in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game and ended a four-game Calgary winning streak.

The victory boosted the Quakers into a second-place tie with the Stampede, each with eight points, two less than the leading Regina Capitals.

The Quakers posted a 2-0 lead in the first period, added another in the second and then outscored the powerful Stampede 4-2 in the third.

THE GAME'S nine players were scored by nine different players. Remi Vandaele, Bill Brown, Keith Burgess, Mike Shabaga, Johnny Dutchak, Gil Rempel and Jack O'Hara were the Quakers' scorers, and the veteran Buggy Dams and Butch McDonald banged the Calgary counters.

Quakers got their first goal while both squads were Northcote, Saskatoon's Bud Craig had been chased for high-sticking earlier in the game, but before the Stampede could get their offensive rolling Stan Brown followed him for boarding.

CRAIG WAS still stepping back on the ice when Vandaele slipped a low shot past Dertell.

Stiller broke from his own defence, raced up the left boards and beat Dertell from close in for Quakers' second tally.

The 12-minute mark had been passed, the second before the Quakers had any further scoring. Burgess raising Saskatoon's count to 3-0 when he fired a low, hard shot past Dertell after a rush with Brown and Rempel past the net.

Both goals were unimpeachable although Quakers held a slight edge.

Dutchak boosted the count to 4-0 before the two-minute mark of the third period. He followed it with a second goal, but the Stampede drew his second penalty of the period for charging, French, Dams.

Disatisfied With Work

Browns Dismiss Ruel As Manager of Team

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Herold (Muddy) Ruel was dismissed yesterday as manager of the St. Louis Browns and Jack Taylor, former coach for the club, was signed to a one-year contract, William O. Dewitt, Browns general manager, said.

Ruel's dismissal was made public earlier yesterday by club president Charles E. Brown, who said that Taylor, who had been signed as director of the club will buy up his contract for next season because they were dissatisfied with his work.

RUEL, who resigned as assistant manager, Commissioner A. B. Chandler to take over the Browns post a year ago, became the second consecutive manager to be fired at the half way point after contracting for a two-year term.

Brooklyn Dodgers when they were National League champions in 1959 and caught five games while in the 1959 world series.

The 51-year-old Ruel took leave with a statement by Muckerman that although the club finished last in the league, it felt certain that material was not on hand to improve the Browns' position.

"MR. MUCKERMAN said he was disappointed in the showing of the club, and disappointed in my work. Well, I couldn't deny that the showing of the club disappointed all of us after we started the season in the cellar and trailed in that position throughout the American League race. I could not agree with the club owner on the second point—my own record.

"I feel free to a seventh-place finish in the league. I feel certain that material was not on hand to improve the Browns' position."

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Hastings (Burrhead) was the former National Hockey League star, announced Tuesday he had resigned his position with the Toronto Maple Leafs to devote full time to his duties as chief scout of the Boston Bruins.

To Start With New Year
Liberals to Nominate
At Conventions Soon

Alberta Liberals expect to hold their first nominating convention to place candidates in the field for the next provincial election around the first of the year, Harper Brown, Alberta Liberal leader, told the Edmonton Liberal Association at a regular meeting Tuesday night in the IOOF hall on 103 street.

MR. PROWSE reported he was meeting great encouragement as he journeyed through the province. A provincial election is coming—and coming soon, he predicted as he urged the Edmonton Liberals to promote a vigorous membership campaign.

A series of rallies will be held all over Alberta in the near future, Mr. Prowse said.

He said he frequently was asked about the Liberal platform, but pointed out that the electors were being asked to help set up that platform. This was the democratic way of obtaining the aims of any group, he said.

WE COULD make promises—that's an easy thing to do. We could tell the people a ready-made platform, but that's not our way. Instead we want to discuss their problems with them and arrive at a solution," Mr. Prowse added.

Future meetings of the Edmonton Liberal Association will take the form of debates and public forums, according to a decision reached by the meeting in a discussion of the winter program. R. V. Bellamy opened the meeting and E. B. Wilson, K.C. vice-president of the association, later took the chair.

UFA Withdraws
Merger Parleys

Carl Stimpfe, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, said today that the United Farmers of Alberta has withdrawn from amalgamation negotiations because the APU has insisted on organizing farmers' unions in Ontario and Manitoba.

In a prepared statement after an APU executive meeting, Mr. Stimpfe said that the United Farmers of Alberta has withdrawn from negotiations on the ground that the Alberta Farmers' Union had given assistance, on request, to the farmers of Ontario and Manitoba to organize a farmers' union.

The APU president blamed the UFA for "breaking down of negotiations" in the latest move to bring about a consolidation of farmers' organizations in this province. All attempts in the last two or three years to amalgamate these two organizations and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture have ended in failure.

Mr. Stimpfe, a farmer at Egmont, said that the APU had felt that latest amalgamation negotiations had resulted in "considerable progress" and contended "the points that the contact committee had agreed upon were not mentioned in the UFA statement that terminated the negotiations."

Wild Fowl Tl.
Not Transferable

Story from Southern Alberta of the shooting of a mallard duck, seriously affected with tuberculosis, which has resulted in considerable human deaths that will contract the disease from that source, Dr. A. Sonerville, director of communicable diseases said today.

"Generally speaking, the avian type of tuberculosis is not transferable to humans," he said. This was confirmed by C. W. Traven, provincial poultry commissioner, who said that while tuberculosis does appear frequently in backyard fowl there is no danger of its transfer to humans. The T virus does not appear eggs.

He questioned the authenticity of the diagnosis of T. In the duck, explaining that the disease is very rare in water fowl and that nodules may appear on the organs of birds from a wide variety of causes.

"There has never been an authentic case in history of humans contracting any disease from poultry," he said.

Automobile, Street Car in Night Crash

Above depicts what an automobile looks like after it has run into a street car. The engine is pushed aside and the left wheel has been bent under the weight of the street car. The whole front end is practically destroyed. Fortunately only two persons out of the three in the vehicle at the time received minor injuries. The driver, Ernest R. Walters, Calgary, suffered a cut on the head requiring eight stitches, while a passenger, Mrs. J. B. Keyes, Exhibition grounds, suffered a cut over the right eye and another to the left knee. Mr. Keyes, the other passenger, was unhurt. Both victims were treated in the Royal Alexandra hospital. Walters told police he was driving south on 56 street and was attempting to pass another auto when he collided with the northbound street car between 112 and 113 avenues. He said "all of a sudden" the street car appeared in front of him. Operating the tram was J. J. Smyke, 1224 66 street. The accident occurred about 8:20 p.m. Police said Walters was arrested for dangerous driving. In court this morning he was fined $50 and costs.

Report on Damage
To City Schools

Little or no damage to school property during the July and August holiday was reported by eight local home and school associations, at a meeting of Edmonton Home and School Council Monday night. The association had made a check of their respective schools in September.

R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, indicated by letter that during the last four years vandalism during summer vacation period resulted in damage to school property exceeding $2,000 a year. He asked that home and school associations co-operate with the school board in checking this needless expense.

R. G. K. Kelly reported on progress in negotiations with the public library and suggested an adequate children's department at the South Side library.

Appeal Court
Rejects Pleas

Two appeals against convictions and sentences imposed for criminal offences were dismissed by the court of appeal of Alberta at court sittings held Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning.

The appeal of Alex Doroshenko against conviction and a four-year penitentiary sentence imposed by Mr. Justice Hugh John McDonald on a charge of burglary was dismissed, the court confirming the sentence.

Albert J. Goulet was granted a new trial when his appeal against conviction was allowed by the court, but the appeal of Arthur de la Salle against conviction and a two-year-and-six-months sentence imposed on a statutory offence charge was dismissed. The conviction and sentence were confirmed by the appeal court.

Lively Heckling
For Candidates

Numerous challenges by members of the audience and counter challenges by some of the candidates led to some confusion at a rally meeting on the eve of Edmonton's civic election, held in St. Anthony's gymnasium Tuesday night. Approximately 1,000 people attended the meeting, which was presided over by Dick Holton, vice-president of the North Edmonton Community League, the sponsoring organization.

Due to the constant heckling and challenges, only half the candidates had addressed the audience when it was decided that the remaining nine would have their time allowed to speak in three minutes instead of speaking the usual five.

Chief member of the audience who hurled a barrage of challenges against speakers to at least half of the speakers, including Mayor Harry Ainlay and C. E. Garney, K.C. was E. L. Gray, who was chairman at Friday's meeting in the Alberta Avenue community hall.

The butt of most of the challenges was Mr. Garney, who was barraged with questions from all parts of the hall.

The chairman was soon on his feet, waving his arms trying to quiet the speakers. Following Mr. Garney were only allowed one question each. A result of the incident, speakers following Mrs. Julia Kinski, during the conference, asked Mr. Garney where his money was during the last few years had disappeared to. Mr. Garney said he had no money. You will have to write the Exhibition Board for the information.

A member of the audience asked Mr. Garney if he had any money. Mr. Garney said he had no money. You will have to write the Exhibition Board for the information.

Arrest Suspect
Hotel Robbery

A total of $432.45 was stolen from the Doyle hotel on 103 avenue sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 2:10 p.m. Tuesday and according to a police report a suspect was arrested late in the day.

A hotel clerk, Anne Bailey, told police that the last victim of the robbery was the hotel money man, who was taken to 11:30 a.m. and then at 3:10 p.m. was taken to the police station. The amount stolen included $19 of Miss Bailey's own money.

Later in the day a suspect of the hotel the same day was arrested at a city railway station.

Report Reveals
Drop in Disease

Communicable disease cases reported to the city health department during the week ended Nov. 1 show a decrease of 28 from the total of the previous week according to a statement filed with the city commissioners by Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health.

During the week ended Nov. 2 there were 53 cases reported compared with 53 the previous week. The chief decline was in whooping cough, cases which dropped from 27 to seven.

Good Old Frank

It was ignominiously buried under an immense stack of old and yellowing magazines in the cluttered window of a second-hand book store, but I recognized it as surely as if it had called out to me. Maybe it did call out to me.

It was in terrible shape. Its covers had gone. The tumbled pages were a tan color on the outside, a sick ivory inside. I knew that through the book there would be corners of pages bent over where happy readers of an earlier day had "marked their place."

From the sidewalk where I stood it was impossible to see the title, but that didn't matter. I went in to the store and told the proprietor, a man as old and faded as the books about him, that I wanted that one at the bottom of the pile. He rescued it with much grumbling. "Ten cents," he said. No inflation here.

When the book was in my hand I found myself remembering the place I used to read after school and in the long afternoon. An old maple tree stood by the back of the house my family lived in. We climbed up through the branches and then stepped across to the roof where its slope was gentle and you could lie on your stomach and read all day and your mother would never know where you were.

It was like being in some kind of dream with the time and the leaves of the maple over your head and the sun filtering through. I read the old book and went out into the street and turned to the first page of the book. "Frank Merrill's Shrewdness, or Brain and Brawn," it said. "By R. L. Merrill. Standard Edition." The publishing date was 1900.

Not the Same

When I took the book to bed with me my wife gave me the arched eyebrows treatment. I explained that it was a book I had reached my second childhood. A woman could never understand that. Re-discovering Frank Merrill could mean to a man after 20-odd years.

Oddly enough, it didn't turn out to mean much. For the first couple of chapters I was tremendously amused and nostalgic. On page 60, when Frank was surrounded by an ugly mob and was asked who he was, he was asked his name and he was asked his name and he was asked his name.

I was a little annoyed with myself that I laughed aloud at this point, causing my wife to look at me with a baleful eye. Twenty years ago, up under the canopy of the maple leaves, that line would have filled me with deep emotion. I would hear a far-away-at-a distance of trumpets and my stomach would be a jelly of love and admiration for Frank. Now, even the weight of the nostalgia couldn't keep a laugh in its respectful place.

I must confess I was amused. Too, on page 85, when Frank, after a long and arduous journey, reached his destination. I was a little annoyed with myself that I laughed aloud at this point, causing my wife to look at me with a baleful eye.

Elect City Barristers

Five Edmonton barristers were elected benchers of the Law Society of Alberta in the mail election conducted by the society to elect a slate of 13 benchers to serve during the years 1948-49.

The Edmonton barristers elected were: L. V. Cairns, K.C., S. H. McQuinn, K.C., S. Bruce Smith, K.C., Ronald Martland, K.C., and G. W. Auxier, the only member of the Junior bar in Alberta to be elected. Other elected benchers are: G. E. A. Rice, K.C., Lethbridge; H. S. Haggart, K.C., Vegreville; W. H. Odeh, K.C., Vegreville; E. J. Chambers, K.C., W. G. Egner, K.C., H. S. Patterson, K.C., L. H. Finney, K.C., and J. H. V. Mirvis, K.C., all of Calgary.

The following benchers retired this year and did not seek re-election: S. W. Field, K.C., Edmonton; J. E. MacLeod, K.C., Calgary; V. B. Baldwin, K.C., Peace River; and J. N. Ritchie, K.C., Lethbridge. The vote was conducted by E. W. S. Kane, K.C., Edmonton, secretary of the society, who announced the results of the mail-poll Wednesday.

Old-Time Farmer Of Vegreville Dies

Winter Comes

To Prairies

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—(CP)—The prairies looked today at snow-whitened fields, read forecasts of more snow and near-freezing temperatures and, now that the rigorous western winter appeared to have given thanks for an unusually mild and open autumn.

As if to stave for the drought it had visited upon many parts of the west this summer, nature had provided a fall which had saved farmers money and feed, enabled construction and highway programs to proceed beyond expectations and lessened householders' fuel bills.

With a warm September and temperatures averaging over 40 during October there was much to be thankful for.

For the farmer, already faced with heavy feed bills, brought on by the packhouse strike, it enabled him to graze livestock and save much needed grain supplies. It also aided in getting fall harvesting and plowing completed, which was held up in some areas due to labor shortages and wet weather.

For the housewife money saved on fuel bills could be put to further use in the family budget to meet the increasing cost of living.

City Teamster Dies Suddenly

A city teamster, Paul Haylock, 12410 142 street, died suddenly while working about 4 p.m. Tuesday, according to city police. Mr. Haylock, who was employed by the Mercus Coal Company, died near 104 avenue and 140 street. The body was removed to Park Memorial funeral home.

He is survived by one brother, Steve of Calgary. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Man Charged Forged Cheque

Following a lengthy preliminary hearing in city police court Tuesday morning and afternoon, Leslie Greenwood, Edmonton, was committed for trial in supreme court on two charges of uttering forged documents and another of house-breaking. One other charge of issuing a forged travellers cheque in Calgary was withdrawn when the crown could not produce sufficient evidence.

It is alleged that the accused broke into the room of Campbell Downie, a city visitor from Montreal, and stole $10 cash and $20 in travellers cheques. He is the alleged to have taken two of the cheques for $20 each and cashed them with Downie's signature forged on them. One cheque was found in Edmonton the other in Calgary.

Evaded Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Treasury Under-Secretary A. L. M. 60,000,000 in evaded taxes outstanding in the United States. The intelligence unit of the bureau of internal revenue had accumulated 30,000 "leads" on fraudulent tax evasions and could not reduce the figure because of insufficient personnel.

Our Town

getting up from his deathbed, had kicked the winning goal for Yale. It was quite a kick. There was a wind of almost hurricane proportions. Frank had had to kick AWAY from the goal posts to score!

"Such a kick for goal has seldom been seen on any field," the narrative assured us. The timekeeper's whistle blew, but the goal was over and beyond the goal-posts before the blast cut the air and Frank Merriwell kicked and won the game for Yale in the very last second of the time remaining. At the end of the second half of the game.

"Please stop that insane chuckling," my wife said. And I was ashamed of it. Twenty years ago it would have been the most natural thing to the woman expected, eagerly anticipated, yet as exciting as anything that ever happened and causing an internal whoop for joy.

Something Gone

I didn't get through the book. Some of the pages were missing. Others were covered with what I am sure is some early vintage bubble gum. And anyway, Mr. Standish, God rest his soul, was not exactly what you'd call a hot-shot writer. Or, at least, not by the justified, weary standards of adults. At that, on the basis of current fiction, he might do pretty well.

But when I put the book gently down I lay back, staring at the ceiling, wondering if it was just the every writing and situations that made Frank Merriwell seem so strange. It seemed to me, on this day of it, that the fault was mine and not Frank's.

And so we come to the serious part. The boy has something, I thought, that the adult can use. That is stilling to believe in miracles, the pure burning faith in fellowman. I wish I had some of that in me, as I had it in me when I scaled the old maple tree. I wish I knew a man like Frank Merriwell that I could believe in to the core of me. I wish I had the m-puistic confidence that the goal was going to be kicked against the wind of the catastrophe in the last second of the game.

What then happened to that fierce young faith? Where did the hard and clear belief in miracles disappear?

Well, I thought, maybe it's still down there inside me, just waiting to be rediscovered. Yes, still here inside me, faded to a sick ivory, overcast with the day's wear and worn just about five cents. I wonder if they've cut down that old maple tree.

Reported Lost

For Rescue Work in Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Canada is to have a Special Air Service Company of volunteer troops, specially trained for air search and rescue work and as a versatile force for any special service, such as in a national catastrophe.

In announcing establishment of the force today, army headquarters said it now is being formed of volunteers from the three infantry battalions of the active force and from reserve units. It is to begin training in mid-November at the joint air school at Rivers, Man.

Recruited up to strength it will be a compact unit of five officers and 114 other ranks organized into a headquarters and three platoons. All will be parachute-trained and the force will be permanently stationed at Rivers school and will have all the facilities of the force at its disposal.

In addition to its air search and rescue duties, the SAS Company will be ready to fly to any point in Canada to give public service in cases of national catastrophe. It will provide troops to aid tactical research and development in airborne work and stage land-air warfare demonstrations for the benefit of military personnel and the public.

SOME OFFICERS AND NCOs already have been trained for the company and have participated in a number of rescuees from remote areas. Most spectacular is the current "Exercise Canoe" where four SAS Company men, including a medical officer, were parachuted.

Goodrich Official Here

Says Over-Inflation Ruinous to Car Tires

Although motorists now have the best and cheapest tires in history, car drivers are shortening the useful "life expectancy" of tires by constantly over-inflating them, R. A. Gunther, general manager of tire sales division, R. Goodrich Tire Co. of Canada Ltd., Kitchener, Ont., said in an interview here Wednesday.

MR. GUNTHER said the company has launched an educational campaign through circulation of tire inflation charts sent to all dealer garages and service stations, setting out correct air pressures for all types and sizes of tires.

The sales manager, accompanied by A. F. F. Vancouver, district manager of the company in B.C., is visiting dealer offices throughout the west.

While in Edmonton they conferred with Fred Wallen, Edmonton district representative of the Goodrich company, optimistic over a continuation of prosperous conditions, is completing plans for a general expansion of field organizations from the Great Lakes to the Pacific coast, Mr. Gunther stated.

"Tire prices were reduced on Sept. 12 last and the price is now below pre-war times for a 'far superior product,' the sales manager declared.

Mr. Gunther predicted a "softening" of the price structure for general commodities in 1948, but said there was nothing to indicate a business recession is in sight.

Tires will be plentiful for private, commercial and agricultural purposes now is being experienced with in the U.S.A. and soon may come into general use.

CUTS DISHWASHING TIME 3 DAYS

VEL penetrates, cuts grease, loosens dirt faster.

VEL eliminates wiping ... dishes, glasses gleam ... no streaky film to wipe away.

No dishpan ring with VEL ... no soap scum to scour away.

JUST put a few teaspoonsful of VEL in your dishpan (about half an ounce of soap). Add water. VEL gives the water amazing new cleaning power that lasts long after dishes dissolve. VEL removes grease faster, more completely than soap, lard and water. Your dishpan, glasses sparkle like jewels, without the touch of a towel. And VEL is milder to hands, free from soapy alkalies!

VEL keeps stockings sheerer, lovelier!

Says Claire Honeyford, "My nylon stay lovelier longer now I wash them with VEL. I just a teaspoonful of VEL in the basin, add lukewarm water ... dip and squeeze a few times, and VEL washes nylon and undies fresh and sheer as new. Colours stay bright, too ... no discoloured soap film."

Says Jean Small of Etobicoke, Ont. "My woolen sweater still fits like a dream after five washings with VEL ... it feels soft as velvet, too. VEL is marvellous for woollens. No shrinkage, loss of colour stay bright. No shrinkage because VEL washes perfectly in lukewarm water."

Makes hard water act soft ... Gives water amazing cleaning power ... Cleans long after dishes dissolve ... Better even in cool water ... Milder to hands ...

ECONOMICAL VEL goes further than soap. Try using half as much.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Why is it that many parents have such a reluctance to give in to a child's wishes? Is it because they feel that thwarting a child is a necessary discipline? Naturally all of us are frustrated in our desire to do as we please. There are enough situations in which a child has to be the loser. Marked out by the parent to make him aware of this. But negativism would never be so noticeable or prolonged if the child had more experience in which he is the winner. Instead of no. Two much more on the part of the parent makes a more child.

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
I am glad you were so sensible as to flout such poor advice. It is not violent treatment that a child needs, but gentle, kind handling. He doesn't need sleep. It is better to ignore his screaming. If there is nothing you can do to end it. If it is a squeeze play that requires great card reading and accurate calculation. It is the only play in bridge that is so interesting and so difficult.

To mathematicians, the most interesting of all plays in bridge is probably the Vienna coup. It is a squeeze play that requires great card reading and accurate calculation. It is the only play in bridge that is so interesting and so difficult.

Canadians Accept Books As Friends and Informers

By DOLORES KIMBALL

This is Book Week in Canada. Nov. 1 to 8 has been set aside to concentrate on reminding Canadians of the pleasure, but also the educational and cultural value of the book. It is in the people of this country a boundless curiosity and an eager desire to learn, but they are just in the initial stages of accepting books as friends and informers.

To read for pleasure, which is surely the only way to read, is to read whenever and wherever the desire presents itself. There are books you can read every ten or so. It is a long time before you grow too old to enjoy Little Women with its delicious nonsense.

Gulliver's Travels, with its land of giants and Lilliputians, pieces the imagination of children, but Jonathan Swift filled this tale with pointed satire of the times.

James Barrie's Peter Pan is the tale of all children, but should not be left in the nursery library shelf for it is rich with myth and human experience. The beloved fairy tale of Hans Christian Andersen are likewise to be read and enjoyed from an adult standpoint of view.

Good habits in reading are all based on the development of discrimination, on the training of judgment so that you select for yourself books that promote mental and spiritual growth. Not a few readers, it is feared, sometimes pretend to like a book because others have praised it and they don't want to be caught "tapping" in the presence of a masterpiece. People will not read the classics because they have it in their minds that they are dull. It is natural enough that they should suppose that there is little in the great works of the past that can help them deal with the anxious and harrowing present; that a work becomes a classic because generations of people, ordinary people, have found pleasure and delight in reading it.

A good book is a good book whenever written. Most people have the opportunity to select books that appeal to their own idiosyncrasy and personal interest. The pseudo-sophisticate is apt to mistake ostentatiousness for originality and speciousness for truth. In selecting books choose as you would between carrots and carrots. There is a place for both in your library but be wise in doing out the service. Sincerity, vitality and a technique adequate to its purpose are the essentials of books that have your interest.

Reading offers refreshment, devotion in recreation and instruction. Books can lead you to new lines of study, to new and broader trains of thought and perhaps to some new path of life. Inscribe them in your life and you will be glad of their friendship.

Alumnae Association To Elect Officers

Lament Public Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae Association will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers at the Corona hotel, Friday at 3 p.m. The annual dinner will take place at the King Edward hotel at 6:30 p.m. the same day. Principal speakers will be Miss Helen Pennington, director of nursing education, University of Alberta, and Stanley W. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hajish, who will be married recently in Grande Prairie, are guests at the Corona hotel. Mrs. Hajish is the former Miss Donna Dwyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Dwyer of Grande Prairie, formerly of Edmonton.

Annual Prom To Be Friday

Music and merriment is characteristic of the junior class on the anniversary of their graduation. As members prepare for the annual prom the first class party of the term is scheduled for the Trocadero ball room Friday at 9 p.m.

Typically, university is the theme of the dance. Two mammoth college crests in green and gold will add a touch of elegance to the ballroom.

For the gala affair co-eds will sport their prettiest formal, while dress will be optional for the men. Beginning the 1,000 students expected to attend will be Ned Newman, president of the Junior class, Mr. H. T. Sparby, wife of the University professor.

Simpson, advisor to women students, and Miss Catherine McFarlane, warden of Penitentiary Hall.
